PEOPLE'S LEAGUE MEETING HELD AT STANDARD

On Tuesday evening a meeting of the People's League was held in the S & H Hall, Standard.

The meeting opened with singing O Canada. Then the president of the League Mr. Anton Hansen, opened the meeting. He announced that though the League was only two weeks old, they already had a membership of sixty members.

Mr. Hansen then introduced the first speaker, Mr. Wheatley, a prominent member of the United Farmers of Alberta.

Mr. Wheatley said he believed the present government was definitely on the down grade. As this, he believed the government was introducing legislation which it knew to be in the interests of the people. He dealt with increased taxation, especially taxes levied on the farmer. Mr. Wheatley showed how the act to transfer the whole burden of relief to the Municipality would greatly increase the burden of farmers. He spoke of the elimination of road grants, and the reduction of school grants since the W. C. Govt. came into power.

Mr. Wheatley said he believed that meetings of this kind would reunite people and make a force which would win the day.

He pleaded for help from the people to support the People's League and the allied candidates at the coming election.

Mr. Hansen then called on the next speaker Mr. S. H. Patterson, R. C. of Calgary.

Mr. Patterson reminded the audience of Mr. Aberhart's promise of relief which would prove his honesty.

He recalled the issue of prosperity certificates, the reduction of debt, Act, the courts act, the press act, etc. and still no dividends. He stated that he had abolished poverty in the midst of plenty, by abolishing the debt.

He stated that he believed Mr. Aberhart had passed the recent acts to be able to blame the condition and so in speaking against those who opposed him, turn the minds of the people from the question of dividends and the implementation of social credit.

Mr. Patterson then recalled some times in Canada's history as Confederation and the Great War when parties had been forgotten and all worked together. Alberta is in this position today.

Mr. Hansen then called on the last speaker of the evening Mr. H. C. Scott of Calgary.

Mr. Scott spoke of the deplorable condition of existing conditions in a province where there is no excuse for want and unemployment.

He said it was the duty of every man and woman to think and make suggestions for improvement and not sit back and criticize.

He said that he believed party strife had helped to make conditions worse following the Great War. A party is apt to see things only from their own standpoint and not from the view of the whole community. He

Socrates once took a walk outside the city walls of Athens. He almost never left the city. So this was, for him, a rare experience. Lolling under a plane tree, he was ravished by the beauty of what he saw, and he offered up a prayer: "Oh Pan, and all ye other gods that haunt this place, make me beautiful in the inward soul, and may the inward and outward be at one."

We have tried hard throughout the past centuries to learn how to make the inward beautiful, but we have left the outward lagging rather miserably behind. In Virgil's words, we have had "Mighty Minds laboring within stunted bodies." There may be some doubt about the "mighty minds," but there can hardly be doubt about the stunted bodies.

Who loves the rain
 And loves his home,
 And looks on life with quiet eyes,
 His will is fated through the storm,
 And at his hearthfire keep the warm
 Nor hell nor heaven shall that soul surprise.

Who loves the rain,
 And loves his home,
 And looks on life with quiet eyes.

NIGHTINGALE

The Junior Red Cross and their teacher Miss Beattie gave a very successful Halloween party at the Valley Garden school last Saturday night. The school was tastefully decorated with many Halloween symbols. On entering the building a black witch took toll of 15c for adults and 10c for children. A white ghost then proceeded to blindfold and another spirit slipped into your hand your fortune. The next step was to meet the devil slowly arranged in pairs. Another witch presided at a table and translated the fortunes for guests. Many games were played. Among them were a peanut relay race and a reef board riding which created much fun. Bobbing for apples was a side attraction. A suitable Halloween song was sung by the school and recitations by Helen Thurston and Lorraine and Arlene Hendricks were well received. A short dance wound up the evening and the Red Cross Committee and teacher served a delicious supper. A vote of thanks was extended to Miss Beattie and the musicians who were Mrs. Thurston, Mr. and Mrs. Jensen and Mr. Payne.

A large number of friends and well wishers of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stoodley gathered at the hall last Friday to give a hearty welcome to the newlyweds. Mr. Hartman then on behalf of the community presented the many lovely and useful gifts along with the congratulations.

THE workshop of character is everyday life. The successful and commonplace hour is where the battle is lost or won.—Maitland D. Babcock

THE ARMISTICE — 1918

Nineteen years ago the world rejoiced in the coming of civilization or rather active and visible warfare between the warring nations.

A weary, and war sick world torn with the bitterness of the strife-broken hearts—disappointed hopes, disabled men, and the thousands who had made the Supreme Sacrifice, were the harvest resulting from four years of bitter conflict and conditions of suffering both mental and physical impossible to describe or to realize save by those who endured them.

It is well to remember. These things should not be lightly or thoughtlessly passed over.

In November 1918, with the laying down of the arms the world rejoiced in the hope and belief that war had ceased for ever from the earth.

The Armistice was credited with being the greatest World Event since the Crucifixion of the Messiah.

Now 19 years after and for some two or three years preceding, wars in various countries are again devastating homes and country and taking thousands of human lives in its ruthless plunder—for what? Largely to please the rapacious greed of an Italian Dictator or an aggressive Japanese government. Since 1918 and their slaughter is growing up by whom the realities of the World war are known only by picture or story, but if the prediction of H. G. Wells and others of similar view are fulfilled, the same generation of youth, with its hopes and desire for life and a progressive career, with all its worthy aspirations, will be side tracked and herded off for Cannon fodder or victims of tear gas poison gas in all its cruellest form of torture. For why? There is no dispute whatever that an aggressive, ambitious rapacious leader would try to settle by force that could not be settled much more equitably and with a much better understanding, by arbitration. True some of these big places might have to give in, and give way perhaps more than they would choose, but even so the cost would not be compared to that which would be caused by war. In this age of advanced thinking and humanitarian ideals, War should be obsolete.

Despite the ominous war clouds in so many places and the extensive program of rearmament being carried out by so many nations, nevertheless there is an ease or life giving hope in the fact that some of these and many other nations are opposed to war. There are peace movements and influence afoot that we trust will outweigh the cruel forces that would imperil true peace and civilization of the world in another World War.

We believe in and cling to this hope despite the somewhat veiled views of those who hold opposing views.

—101—

After a delicious lunch served by the hostess and Mrs. Ed ward James, a basket of gifts was presented to the guest of honor by Mrs. M. H. Henderson. Mrs. Henderson replied by quoting Robert Burns. She said that for the most part, we see the very human side of our neighbors, but that today she had been privileged to see the divine side of their kindness, their sympathy and their affection, and it was lovely for all of us, too, to have this opportunity to rise above the pettiness of everyday living. It was one of the times that make the life of worth while. But we are not saying "Goodbye" to our respected neighbor. Just "Till we meet again." The spring will bring tulips and in bloom, meadow larks on the wing and our old friend back home.

The unfairness of some of the terms of the Versailles Treaty, are to be deeply deplored as are other ills that have been wrought in the past, but further wrongs will not right these misdeeds.

No person should be apathetic on this question of Peace.

Let our statement of all countries see the thing through, backed up by an overwhelming Public Opinion that War must cease and in their deliberations hold not "all for one—but one for all" then the world will be freed of this ruthless barbarism.

TUDOR

Tudor is losing another of its residents. Mrs. Helen Sanderson, who has lived here for more than 18 years, is going to spend the winter with her son Harold in Winnipeg.

We expect changes, of course, but it seems that lately, we are having to wait more than our fair share of friends. Fortunately Mrs. Sanderson is planning to return in the Spring.

We are glad she will be among her own folks during the winter, for falling daylight makes life difficult and hard for one who often alone.

All her days Mrs. Sanderson has lived courageously. Left a widow, with three young children 20 years ago she decided to leave Prince Rupert, B.C. and come west. She took a Normal course in Calgary and has taught school in many parts of the province up until 7 or 8 years ago. She owns her own home in Tudor and the adjoining farm.

About twenty ladies gathered at the charming home of Mrs. Arthur Dunsmore to bid Mrs. Sanderson "Au Revoir." It was a cozy affair. The open stove radiated good cheer as only glowing coals can. Cookies and games were arranged under the supervision of Mrs. A. A. Peters. The familiar donkey looked quite unmoved by the many topped off tails suspended in mid-air around him. Mrs. Pomroy, of Rockyford did attach one to his hindmost pants, but not at the place intended by nature and it must have been very uncomfortable. However, he remained serene and superior, remarking no doubt, as Walter de la Mare suggests, his day of triumph over 19 centuries ago, at Jerusalem.

After a delicious lunch served by the hostess and Mrs. Ed ward James, a basket of gifts was presented to the guest of honor by Mrs. M. H. Henderson. Mrs. Henderson replied by quoting Robert Burns. She said that for the most part, we see the very human side of our neighbors, but that today she had been privileged to see the divine side of their kindness, their sympathy and their affection, and it was lovely for all of us, too, to have this opportunity to rise above the pettiness of everyday living. It was one of the times that make the life of worth while. But we are not saying "Goodbye" to our respected neighbor. Just "Till we meet again." The spring will bring tulips and in bloom, meadow larks on the wing and our old friend back home.

BAINTREE

Under the patronage of Mrs. Ed Rose the Ladies of the United Church put on a chicken supper Friday night which was very well attended.

After all had partaken of the good things provided a programme lasting about an hour added to the pleasure of those who were present.

The Rev. Mr. Chapman officiated as chairman and acted from Tudor, Rockyford, Nightingale and Baintree submitted the following numbers:
Sole, Miss Agate; Reading Mrs. Gordon; Pianos; Harmonica solos; Mr. and Mrs. Jensen; Piano Accordion; Miss May Kraus; Recitation; Helen Olsen; Saxophone; Joe Tomlin; Mandolin; Eddie McLean; Readings; Tim Longbottom; Songs; Mr. Evan Roberts; Mr. Walrod, Mayor of Rockyford, also voiced the sentiments of his people; while Mrs. Rose expressed her thanks to all who had helped to make the affair a success.

This was the first event of its kind in the new hall, and the happy outcome should encourage other organizations to follow up with other social evenings.

LYALTA

Dalrymple hall park was the scene of a lively ball game on Sunday, November 7th. This is believed to be a record for late in the season softball in this district. A good crowd turned out to see the excitement and they were not disappointed as both side put up a good battle. The Lyalta team easily won by a score of 22, the Dalrymple boys getting 15 scores.

Twenty Years Ago

Twenty years ago two farmers' grain companies serving Alberta. Farmers were amalgamated to form United Grain Growers Limited.

The twenty years that have passed have increased the confidence of farmers in this farmer-owned institution. Satisfactory experience in the handling of their grain is the basis of that confidence.
